OIL NEWS.

Items from Pithole. A correspondent of the New York World gives the following list of producing wells on Pithole, with some items of interest from Pithole City:

"Twin Well No. 1," on the most souther ly lot of the Holmden farm, was "struck" (for this awkward phrase the English language seems to afford no exact substitute), about the middle of June. With the sucker reds still in, its proprietors claim a dally production of two hundred barrels. "Twin Well No. 2," about half a donen rods above its mate, is a day or two older than "No. 1." The sucker rods have been drawn, and from three to four hundred barrels per day is the amount claimed. In these two wells the United States
